Indue Group – Risk Exposures and Assessment Report

Indue Ltd holds an Authorised Deposit-taking Institution (ADI) licence and is therefore subject to regulation by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA). Indue Ltd is the head entity of the Indue Group and is locally incorporated and Australian owned.

The purpose of this report is to make available to the general public, specified information in respect of the capital adequacy and credit risk of the Indue Group. The specified information is outlined in Australian Prudential Standard 330 Capital Adequacy: Public Disclosure (APS 330) Attachment C – Risk exposures and assessment (all ADI's), which can be found on APRA's website.

In accordance with the requirements of APS 330 the information disclosed in this report is disclosed on a Level 1 basis, which incorporates all of Indue's subsidiaries, each of which are approved by APRA to comprise an Extended Licensed Entity (ELE), as outlined in the chart below.

The specified information is required to be disclosed on a quarterly basis.

Indue Ltd, through its subsidiary Indue Securitisation Pty Ltd, provides various management services to securitisation trusts but does not have any securitisation exposures of the type referred to in APS 330.

The following report is for the quarter ended 30 June 2018.
